ODOMETER
FRAUD

Illinois law prohibits odometer tampering and requires anyone who sells a motor vehicle to disclose the accuracy of its odometer reading. All sellers of a motor vehicle are subject to the law — private citizens as well as car dealers.

Odometer Certification

Chapter 625 ILCS 5/3-112.1

Illinois law requires mileage disclosure for all vehicles, except vehicles with a gross vehicle weight of more than 16,000 pounds, vehicles 10 years old or older, vehicles that are not self-propelled and vehicles manufactured without an odometer.

The seller must complete the Certificate of Title, including the following information:

- Odometer reading at the time of the sale/transfer
- Date of the sale/transfer
- Seller's printed name and signature
- Purchaser's printed name, address and signature

Purchasing from a Dealer

An Illinois licensed vehicle dealer must provide:

- Bill of sale
- Odometer statement
- Copy of Illinois Tax Form

Inspect Vehicle

- Make sure odometer progresses properly.
- Check brakes, steering, alignment and acceleration.
- Inspect tires — low-mileage vehicles typically have the original tires.
- Check batteries, hoses, clamps and belts.
- Look for excessive interior wear: seats, floor mats and brake pedal.

Used Car Buying Tips

- Have a qualified mechanic examine the vehicle. This may help avoid unexpected repair costs.
- Never sign blank documents. An unscrupulous dealer may complete the document to his benefit only.
- Review the title. The vehicle's current mileage should be greater than the mileage shown on the title. Alterations or eraser marks invalidate the title. NEVER purchase a vehicle with an altered title. If the dealer does not have the title, do not purchase the vehicle until a title is provided.

What You Should Know

- Make sure the seller's identification matches the name on the title.
- Check the meeting location to be sure it is a permanent location, not a temporary meeting place.
- Verify the telephone number of the seller. Unlisted numbers or pager numbers are difficult to trace should problems arise with the vehicle.
- Determine the reason the vehicle is being sold: family financial hardship, fast cash, mechanical problems.
- Verify that the issue date on the title coincides with the seller's reason for disposing of the vehicle.
- Pay attention to the seller's story. Inconsistencies often indicate illegal sales.
- Compare the vehicle to a similar model from another seller.
